JUNEE High School is basking in the success of their public forum about 'ice'.

More than 160 people filed into the school's MPC to hear from experts about the dangers and impact of crystal methamphetamine.

The forum was organised jointly between the high school, Junee Shire Council and GEO Group.

Principal Terry Vercoe said the audience included people from across the community from primary school students to grandparents.

“It was a very receptive audience,” he said.

Moderator for the event, former Member for Riverina and Australian National Advisory Council on Alcohol and Drugs Kay Hull.

Mrs Hull said the audience were looking for timely and relevant information.

“It was obvious people were grappling with the issues of ice,” she said.

Mrs Hull said the forum would give people a “sense of empowerment” as they had the right information.
